

Roaming Around Reidsville

City of Reidsville

We love it when people choose Reidsville as their new home! But for anyone moving to a new city for whatever reason, oftentimes you don't know exactly what your new home has to offer in terms of amenities or services.

Enter "Reside in Reidsville", a quarterly program for new residents that kicks off this month at Lake Reidsville located at 630 Water Works Road. On Thursday, July 12, from 5:30-7:30 p.m. the newest members of "Team Reidsville" are invited to come out to the lake and learn more about the local community. We will have information on City services as well as representatives from outside agencies like the Reidsville Chamber/Visitors Center, Cone Health/Annie Penn Hospital, Rockingham

Community College and the Rockingham County Schools System, including the International Baccalaureate (IB) program, on hand to give you insights into the city where you now live. You ask the questions! We'll provide the answers and, if we don't know it, we'll find out and get back to you!

We wouldn't ask you out to Lake Reidsville around dinnertime without providing you food! There will be hot dogs with all the fixings and drinks. Various activities will be available free of charge while you're there .... pedal boats, kayaks, canoes and corcls can be taken out on the lake. The camp's playground will be available along with other activities like corn hole, horseshoes, the lake's walking and biking trails and the disc golf course, Lake's Edge. Bring a fishing pole and enjoy fishing for crappie or bass in the lake or take part in an impromptu game of soccer on the regulation-sized soccer field.

This event is geared for those who have lived in Reidsville a year or less, but you do need to sign up! Call 336-349-1099 or email jyarbrough@reidsvillenc.gov to register.

We are very excited about launching our "Reside in Reidsville" program. Yes, we shamelessly stole the idea from a nearby City in another County (don't worry, they know and are okay with it!). Each quarter, the program will be held at different locations throughout Reidsville. The events will be totally informal, and, hopefully, extremely educational for those who are able to attend. At each site, there will be multiple information stations where people can learn more about the history of Reidsville and Rockingham County as well as ways to volunteer and become a part of the community. Services, including health, education, recreation and more, will be showcased.

While a variety of services and organizations may be highlighted, each quarter there will be a different focus. With the July 12th program being at Lake Reidsville, it is an ideal time to stress recreation and wellness. The City's Parks & Recreation will be front and center ready to answer questions about athletic offerings, our Fitness Center, Teen Center and of course, RCARE (Reidsville Center for Active Retirement Enterprises). We'd love to tell you more about our City's network of parks, including Jaycee Ballpark and even Market Square, a scenic little "park" in beautiful downtown Reidsville. We have also been striving to make ourselves a more walkable community as we continue to expand our walking trails/greenways system throughout the City. We'd love to tell you more about them!

All of these efforts are designed to create "Community Champions" to be a part of "Team Reidsville". We want our new residents to learn more about the Reidsville community while being able to meet other newcomers while you're there.

The July 12th event at Lake Reidsville kicks off the "Reside in Reidsville" program, but it doesn't stop this month. Plans are to have the next quarterly program at the Fall Jubilee in downtown Reidsville, most likely at Market Square on the third Saturday in October, October 20. That program will feature what our downtown has to offer, among other things. Other destinations will be the Penn House in December and the Chamber of Commerce in March of 2019. The Penn House, a beautiful City-owned facility, will be decked out for the holidays. We think focusing on the historical offerings the City can provide will be key to that program. When the Chamber hosts the event next year, we will stress business-related information and volunteer opportunities.

So, if you're new to Reidsville, we hope to see you there!
