

Keystone Foods Hosts City of Reidsville's Industry Breakfast; Focus on Safety in the Workplace

Reidsville, February 17 – Keystone Foods hosted the City of Reidsville Industrial Association's quarterly "Industry Breakfast" at their Reidsville facility. The topic of this quarters meeting was "Safety in the Workplace" and included brief presentations from Keystone Foods, Reidsville Police and Fire and Annie Penn Hospital. These meetings were designed to bring about and discuss issues related to all industries in Reidsville such as workforce, plant safety and other related topics.

Pictured: (Left to Right): Jeff Garstka, City of Reidsville; Karen Williams, One Source Staffing; Chief David Bracken, City of Reidsville; Kevin Eason, City of Reidsville; Mark Evans, Commonwealth Brands; Mike Fenley, Senator Burr's Office; Chris Phillips, City of Reidsville; Captain Brian Oakley, City of Reidsville; Tom Wiggins, City of Reidsville; Mayor Jay Donecker, City of Reidsville; Tina Williams, Keystone; Steve Scott, Tri-State Steel; Frank Skinner, Global Textile Alliance; Mike Haywood, Keystone; Satrina Daniel, Keystone; Joyce Stone, NC Works; Stokes Ann Hunt, Annie Penn Hospital; Diane Sawyer, Reidsville Chamber; Linda Keaton, Bibey Machine; Councilmember Tom Balsley, City of Reidsville; Dana Huskey, Henniges Automotive; Shawn Hart, Premiere Finishing Solutions; Joe Crews, JIT Solutions