Volunteers ‘toss it’ to clean up Reidsville

Volunteers bagged up litter and cleaned up the City’s streets as part of the “Toss It for Reidsville” campaign earlier this month.

The annual event is sponsored by the Reidsville Appearance Commission. RAC members, aided by local citizens and City staff, gathered up 23 bags of trash on Saturday, May 3, 2019, along with other items. The group, which also included members of The Last Dons, met behind City Hall and was given their designated locations.

Receiving some extra attention were the following streets: Moss Street from Freeway Drive to Wentworth Street; Reid School Road; Reid Street, Drum Road, Turner Drive at the railroad tracks; the Courtland Park area; and various locations of McCoy Road, North Washington Avenue and Barnes Street.

Reidsville Councilwoman Sherri Walker helps out with the annual cleanup whenever she can.

“There are so many great things happening in Reidsville. We have new industries, an excellent hospital and fantastic community development with great entertainment,” she said. “Let’s not let litter be a part of our growing and thriving city. If everyone pitches in and helps clean up the litter, it makes a daunting task not seem so difficult.”

Other cleanup opportunities are available. If anyone is interested in the City’s Adopt-A-Street program or the Pride & Participation Adoption areas, contact the City’s Community Development Manager Donna Setliff at dsetliff@reidsvillenc.gov or 336-349-1039.

Above & below, volunteers from the Reidsville Appearance Commission, City staff and community came out to “Toss It for Reidsville” during the annual cleanup day on Saturday, May 3.
